

IT'S A SECRET

I can tell you a stories about something crazy but first can you keep a secret good. It was when I was in japan with friends someone named Ellen was a new friend he talled me to meet him at the school so I did."you ready.Grian" he said we went to the gareth's classroom I did not feel safe. But gareth's ghost was not there which worried me "so what are we doing here" I said "we are here to help the school and gareth said we could use his class" said Ellen then the yakuza came out from behind the desk and bookshelves "Ellen what did you get me into" I said " just listen Grian it's fine" Ellen said they drew a weird circle with a triangle in the middle of the room then they said some demonic words then a monster appeared they disassembled it and I ran " these people are crazy" I said then I passed out I woke up in my house. "It it was a dream" then Ellen came in and said "don't tell anyone it's a secret I thought no no no this can't be real "see you again tonight" he said so I went to the alleyway again to figure out that I'm the subject so I ran and ran and got out cot my breath then said to myself "these people are crazy Ellen ahh" I blacked out.then I woke up in my bed I went out of my house and Ellen grabbed me and said don't tell anyone It's a secret. 266 words
