

ELSPETH MAYNARD

Elsbeth is known in the Windsor area as a soloist, chorister, conductor, and teacher. As a soloist, she has performed with the Windsor Symphony Orchestra, Windsor Community Orchestra, Windsor Classic Chorale, Guelph Chamber Choir and has presented recitals in the South Western Ontario and Detroit area. As a professional chorister, she was a founding member of the Exultate Chamber Singers and sang with Essex Singers for many years. She also toured Europe with the Guelph Chamber Choir on several occasions.

A graduate of the Faculty of Music, University of Toronto, she spent most of her teaching career teaching vocal music at the Walkerville Centre for the Creative Arts where she conducted the WCCA Chamber Singers and Concert Singers and served as the Program Director of the enriched arts program. She taught voice and music education at the University of Windsor for several years and has been asked many times to adjudicate at both the high school and university levels. Since retiring from the Board of Education, she teaches voice privately from her home studio.
